

SISSS00112 SWIMMING & WATER SAFETY TEACHER

RTO 41402

COURSE CURRENCY STATUS: Current

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This qualification reflects the role of individuals who work in aquatic facilities or environments, and recreation facilities. These individuals are competent in a range of activities and functions requiring autonomous work within a defined range of situations and activities

DURATION

This full course runs over approximately an 8 - 10 week period with students completing the required units of competency to complete the skill set and a period for re-submitting any outstanding assessments at the end of the course.

COURSE DEMANDS

Face to face classes are offered to students. Scheduling can be amended to suit learner cohort requirements including further training if required.

This time frame includes all learning and assessment activities. It is anticipated the course length will be adjusted to cater for individual student's requirements. The recommended/ scheduled dates for face to face training, other learning methodologies and subsequently assessment can and will be adjusted to satisfy student requirements.

COURSE DELIVERY

A blended delivery mode is employed including a simulated environment and face to face training that will take place in Southern Education's training facility. Students will also be supported outside of face to face classes through e-mail, telephone, zoom and any other processes employed by Southern Education to assist students.

Face to face training classes will consist of groups up to a maximum 24 students. It is however anticipated that an average class size will consist of approximately 16 students in attendance at any one time.

Online learning material for the course will be provided to the student. Students will read relevant sections of the online learning material prior to delivery in preparation for the training.

Students may contact their trainer for support/ assistance outside of scheduled face to face contact times or directly to Southern Education if required.

The following techniques are employed during face to face delivery depending on the subject matter:

- Trainer presentations and demonstrations
- Videos
- Individual tasks
- Case studies
- Research
- Role plays
- Practical demonstrations
- Group work

ASSESSMENT

Assessment will take place at Southern Education's facility.

Assessment methods include a combination of written tests and practical activities (depending upon the definition of these tasks). Simulated workplace environments will be created during assessment tasks to create as close to real life situations as possible.

Student's competency against the unit of competency specifications are assessed throughout the course. Students are provided with opportunities for re-assessment if they fail to demonstrate competency during assessment tasks.

Students will be informed of assessment processes and methodologies pre-enrolment and at orientation. Assessors will discuss the assessment requirements with each student prior to them attempting each task.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

A Pre-Training Review is completed by students during the application process. On completion of the Pre-Training Review, Southern Education determines if the course is suitable for the student and whether it addresses their learning needs.
